

WITH OUR BOYS IN SERVICE

Ralph Garcia of Truckee left last week for San Francisco and later will return to Camp Beale where he will be assigned to a branch of the U. S. Army.

Harry Digesti, who for more than two years has been with the infantry in the Pacific, returned home this week after receiving his discharge at Camp Beale Friday. Harry returned from Japan, his last last post, where he was a first cook with his company. Although not yet 22 years of age, Harry has had some thrilling experiences and is glad to be home and says he will continue to make Truckee his home from now on.

Otto Frederick of Norden received a letter from Quentin Queen from the latter's home in West Virginia announcing that he is out of the army after many months overseas. Queen is well known at Donner Summit. He and Mrs. Queen plan to make a trip to this district soon.

George Kamp telephoned his parents that he is on his way to Norfolk, Va., via the USS Noble with the evident destination being the Atlantic and finally European ports. Kamp will be a well traveled man by June when he expects to be out of the navy as he has spent much time in crossing the Pacific to date.

After three years with the navy in the Pacific, Lyle Smith, former Truckee and Tahoe electrical contractor, has returned and visited here Sunday with Mrs. Smith and their daughter from Reno. Smith said he was reentering the electrical business and has secured a California and Nevada license. For the time being they will continue to reside in Reno, but will work through this territory, Smith said.

Foson Wilson, who was discharged from the army some time ago, has engaged in business in Grass Valley where he and his partner are operating the New Deal Cafe.

TAHOE CITY—A novel race never before tried so far as is known, was one thought up by the Tahoe Ski Club's tournament director, Bill Beech, and it consisted of a relay slalom with a four man team from Truckee and Tahoe competing Sunday.

A man from each team started from the top of the hill on identical courses, running the course half way. At that point his team mate took up the flag and completed the course. As he flashed over the finish line, another set of men made the run in similar manner. The Tahoe team won. All contestants appeared to enjoy the novelty and will contest again in the near future.

New fish hatcheries and improvements on those now in existence are provided for in the budget approved by the state fish and game commission at its meeting in Los Angeles. We are not going to attempt to oppose these expenditures as we believe hatcheries one of the most vital parts of the program to maintain fish life in California waters. However, we do feel that an appropriation for rearing ponds would not have been amiss at this time. It has been definitely shown that rearing trout for planting in this area at least is worthwhile and there is some question as to the survival of the millions of fry taken annually from the hatcheries and placed directly in streams and lakes. We are confident that many of them survive and grow, but the percentage is a point of argument. We do know that fish from rearing ponds, given proper attention and the right food, provide a goodly share of hardy trout capable of surviving after their release from the ponds. This rearing problem seems to be designed to become a purely local project until the commission is convinced that through that method alone can the streams be properly restocked and brought back to their one-time capacity. A system of good hatcheries, coupled with adequate rearing ponds would not make such laws as the new 15-trout limit necessary, in our personal opinion.

We are happy this week to welcome another promising enterprise into our Truckee business family. Dick Little has completed the remodeling of his insurance and real estate office where the bowling alley once flourished and has installed modern furnishings in keeping with the needs of this community. To Mr. and Mrs. Little we all join in sincere congratulations and best wishes in their new undertaking.

This week the March of Dimes ends. Many of you have been very generous in your contributions. Others have unintentionally neglected to do their bit but still have ample time to make their donations to this highly important drive. We are confident that Truckee will do more than her share, but it means we must all do our individual bit.

MASONS HOLD RITES FOR CARL O. FOX, 64, RAILWAY ENGINEER

ROSEVILLE—Masonic funeral services were held in the Broyer Chapel Sunday for Carl Owen Fox, 64, who died in the Southern Pacific general hospital in San Francisco.

He was a native of Iowa and a Southern Pacific locomotive engineer. He began his railroad career as a fireman in 1904 on the Sacramento division and advanced to engineer in 1913. Two months ago he suffered an attack in Sparks while preparing an engine for a return trip to Roseville and was taken to the hospital.

He was a member of Ben All Temple of the Shrine, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers beside the Roseville Masonic lodge. Surviving are his wife and a sister.

Warns Boys With Rifles

Frank W. Gaiennie, district superintendent for Sierra Pacific Power Company, this week issued the following statement as a warning to boys who are using the company's insulators as targets for rifles:

"It has come to my attention that certain boys of Truckee with .22 rifles are practicing their shooting ability by using the 60,000 volt insulators of our main transmission line as their targets. This has occurred directly north of town in Trout Creek Canyon.

"This is a very dangerous sport and very expensive as far as the Sierra Pacific Power Company is concerned. These insulators cost nearly $50 a piece installed, beside the great possibility of a serious interruption of service for this entire area. The empty shells have been found, every effort will be made to ascertain those who are responsible. This is not a small matter as the damage done so far for only a few minutes fun amounts to over $500."

Trout Limit Is Dropped To 15 At L. A. Meet

Hatchery Funds Approved
For Tallac, Tahoe and New Plant

As predicted a few weeks ago the California Fish and Game Commission at its meeting in Los Angeles this week ordered a reduction in the trout limit from 25 to 15, the new law to become effective February 15.

The weight limit of 10 pounds and one fish remains effective and includes white fish.

The commission also banned "chumming" in all inland waters of California and outlawed the spearing of salmon.

According to a press dispatch from Los Angeles, Southern California, which a special committee of state senators from that section maintained had been neglected and ignored for more than ten years in the matter of fish and game expenditures, will come in for a huge share of the $6,000,000 proposed in a legislative bill approved by the commission Monday.

Other expenditures in the budget include:

Placer county: Mt. Tallac Hatchery, $50,000; Tahoe Hatchery, $15,000.

Amador, Nevada, Placer and Sierra counties: new hatchery centrally located, $200,000.

San Joaquin, Madera, Alpine, Fresno and Nevada counties: check dams, $90,000.

CAPITAL WEEK

BY UNITED PRESS

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 31 —(U.P.)— Gov. Earl Warren's so-called "social legislation" was inching forward in the legislature today, but senators and assemblymen were keeping a firm grasp on the big money measures.

City and county sponsored plans to divide the $50,000,000 postwar reconstruction and unemployment fund for the benefit of local districts were progressing with little opposition. But the governor's $154,000,000 construction program was bogged down in the senate in what appeared to be a "stall" while legislators got the $50,000,000 bill through.

The assembly passed its version of the $50,000,000 bill with only 10 dissenting votes. The senate, however, in committee hearings, agreed that all of that money should go directly to the cities and counties. But they amended it to give more money to individual counties, raising the minimum from $50,000 to $175,000.

But victories in child care center, housing and full employment legislation helped balance the governor's program in this special session.

Both the assembly and the senate passed bills continuing child care centers. Sen. Jack B. Tenney, R., Los Angeles, who introduced the bill into the upper house, warned that the communists want to make the centers permanent establishments, and other senators agreed with him. But the bill was passed — continuing the centers only temporarily however. September 1947 was set as the closing date, unless further action is taken at the next regular session of the legislature.

A $7,500,000 emergency housing bill for veterans was before the senate after being passed unanimously in the assembly. The lower house had before is a measure requesting the appropriation of an additional $11,500,000 to relieve the housing shortage at state colleges. The ways and means committee favored the bill.

Full employment legislation received the approval of the assembly ways and means committee, which gave a "do pass" recommendation to a bill proposing a fact-finding committee to prepare quarterly "labor budgets".

In the senate, the social welfare committee approved passage of a disability insurance bill which would allow benefits to persons out of work because of illness. About 2,600,000 persons would be effected.

Science won two falls out of three with the legislators. The assembly ways and means committee approved a bill giving $2,000,000 to the University of California Agricultural school for research, and the lower house passed another measure allocating $110,000 for herb research and planting at the California Polytechnic Institute.

But in the senate, a $1,200,000 appropriation for a telescope to be installed at Lick Observatory was

First Postwar Highway Contracts Let by State

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 31 —(U.P.)— The first contracts of a $115,000,000 postwar construction program of state highway have been let, the state department of public works announced.

After a steady decline in road construction during last year, the extensive program contemplated for the present year is reflected in the large volume of preliminary work is reflected in $1,889,800 of engineering orders and $9,077,800 of right of way orders, the department stated.

By the end of the year the department had advertised, had pending or awarded a total of 32 contracts totaling $14,231,500.

scratched from the governor's construction program.

Veterans continued to receive favorable treatment. They were given an "exclusive" on the housing opportunities to be opened by the proposed $7,500,000 bill. They had senate approval to raise the home loan bond from $50,000,000 to $75,000,000 and fix the minimum interest rate at 2 1/2 per cent. And the assembly ways and means committee favored raising the appropriation for on-the-job apprentice training from $75,000 to $175,000.

As the date for filing for the coming election drew closer, politics tended to come more out the open. Lt. Gov. Frederick F. Houser for example, announced he had changed his mind and was not going to run for U. S. Senator. Nor, he said, would he be a candidate for reelection as lieutenant governor.

The "draft" movement to place Attorney General Robert W. Kenny in the position of democratic candidate for governor grew momentum — and four men emerged as possible successors for his current position. One of them was Houser. The others were Senators Oliver J. Carter, D., Redding; Harrison W. Call, R., Redwood City, and Sam L. Collins, R., Fullerton.

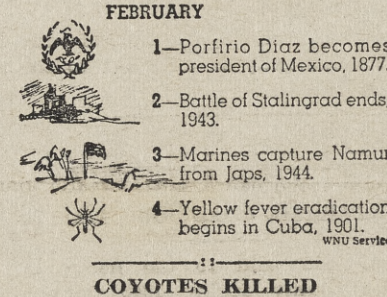

There were two announced Republican candidates for lieutenant governor—Speaker of the Assembly Charles Lyon of Beverly Hills and Superior Judge Goodwin Knight of Los Angeles. On the Democratic side, Sen. John F. Shelley has admitted he is considering running. He is the president of San Francisco's AFL labor council.

Guide Needed In Capitol Says Southern Legislator

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 31 —(U.P.)— What the state capitol building needs is a guide to point out to tourists the "objects of historical interest" in the building—and to show women tourists where the "powder room" is.

That, at least, is the opinion of Fred Kraft, San Diego Republican, who introduced a bill into the assembly this week asking the finance department to provide such a factotum.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 31 (Special)—Seven thousand more babies were born in California in 1945 than in the previous year, according to a report made to Gov. Earl Warren by the Department of Public Health. The department reported marriages increased from 86,028 to 93,182.

LOYND'S TRUCKEE DRUG

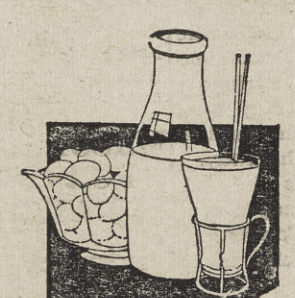

Heavens to Betsy...wouldn't it be awesome if your water heater quit you cold? Here are four ways, however, to pamper the old dear to keep him happily and faithfully yours for a long time.

1. CUT DOWN ON WASTEFUL USE OF HOT WATER. Think before you draw even a quart or two of hot water. Was it necessary? Make it snappy when you take a shower. Rinse dishes in a pan...NOT under a running faucet. Use less hot water for a tub bath.
2. DRAIN YOUR WATER HEATER REGULARLY. To drain, open the valve on your heater and run water into a bucket until clear of sediment. That's all.
3. KEEP YOUR WATER HEATER CLEAN. Brush off the burner occasionally.
4. DO NOT HEAT WATER TOO HOT! If your water heater has an adjustable thermostat, set it to 120 degrees. It will be easier on your plumbing, too. Remember — If your plumber or repair man only when absolutely necessary. They are busy people these days.

PLACER PLANNING BODY APPROVES NEW LAKE TRACT

TAHOE CITY— Constable Harry Johanson of Tahoe returned home on Sunday from a business trip to Auburn and Sacramento. While below he attended the meeting of the Placer County Planning Commission, of which he is secretary. Among matters taken up was passing on the proposed subdivision up Ward Creek, formerly the Kent property. The project was approved.

The commission voted to recommend to the Placer county supervisors the appointment of a full time building inspector to check on permits and a few homes being erected in this district. Many persons have been violating the building codes by failing to secure building permits and not submitting plans before building.

Mrs. Luda Gross of Lake Pine Court in Lake Forest has just returned to her Tahoe home following a visit of several weeks in Mercy Hospital, Sacramento, where she underwent an operation. She's anticipating good health from here on.

TAHOE SKI MEET ON FEBRUARY 17 WILL DRAW MANY SKIERS

TAHOE CITY— Tournament Director Bill Bechdolt of the Lake Tahoe Ski Club announced on Monday that because of housing difficulties the Tahoe club will withdraw its request from the California Ski Association for the state C and D jumping tournament, which they had wished to sponsor in the near future.

Plans for the club's invitational meet on February 17 are formulated and committees have been contacted. List of judges for the event's will be available in next week's Sun.

There will be A, B, C and D jumping, with a giant slalom and two runs of regulation slalom. Three prizes will be awarded for each event. All persons, even unattached entrants, will be eligible to compete excepting professionals. The meet will start at 10:30 a.m.

No housing will be available for contestants but the noon meal will be provided and a buffet dinner is being planned for the evening following the meet, at which time awards will be made.

Constable Harry Johanson, who is section chief for the Tahoe area of the National Ski Patrol, will be on hand to render first aid and the first aid toboggan, fully equipped as required by law, will be held handy.

Constable Johanson plans to reorganize a local ski patrol, providing he can interest new members in passing the primary and advanced courses in first aid required and in acquiring the knowledge and first aid measures necessary to cope with winter sports injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Pollitt returned from a visit in San Francisco on last Thursday evening. Mr. Pollitt must return to the city around the 10th for an operation.

TAHOE LETTER To The Servicemen

From SWANEE

Tahoe City, California.

January 27th, 1946

Dear Tahoeites:

Well, we Swansons have settled down to the humdrum of everyday life once more following a wonderful visit from our son Jimmie who spent a total of 15 days with us here. He left from Reno on the 2:05 o'clock bus for Salt Lake, and eventually Greensboro, North Carolina, daughter Marie and little Billie and I seeing him off following dinner at the Colombo. We took him to Truckee on Tuesday morning in the wee small hours but he had to return home with us when no seat was available from Reno to Salt Lake. He enjoyed every minute of his stay to the nth degree and was plenty blue to have to leave it all once more. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Soll gave a farewell dinner for him at their lovely new home at Tahoe Pines, other guests including their daughter, Mrs. Mary Jane Dewhurst Sherwood Prusso, the Swansons and daughter Marie and son Billie. Pinocchio and bridge helped pass away the after dinner hours. Expect by now Jim is running into that cold wave that's hitting the east and wishing he was back again. He anticipates spending at least a year overseas, maybe more. The grand photographs he left behind in uniform will help no end in softening the thousands of miles which may soon be intervening.

From sunny New Orleans last week I was happy to receive from the sight seeing Ben Callenders of Waleswood Lodge in Tahoe Park a scenic postal card with a cheery note, a copy of the interesting Old French Quarter News of New Orleans, a visitor's guide and the menu from the Court of the Two Sisters where they enjoyed a feast Ben marked OK! The highlight of their three day visit was a tour of the old French Quarter. They were on their way to Miami and weather was continuing grand.

From the vacationing A. M. Henrys of Tahoe City also had a card from Topopah where they had stopped for the night. They had encountered Otto Remper and Tommy Brown of Lake Forest in their travels and just missed having dinner with them. Expect further cards along their route of travel from time to time and hope they have fun.

Had another good laugh last week from a letter received from my little pal, the Okinawa kid, PFC Donnie Prusso, who gives his latest address as Tengan, Okinawa. Right off the bat he assures me his mom is still sending him the Sierra Sun in which he keeps tab with his favorite playground—Tahoe. He says the weather only gets around 30 to 40 degrees above there but he almost freezes. He was doing his stint on radio watch as he wrote and had a shirt, sweater and jacket on and a stove was beside him but he was still far from warm. Said he...aatppkEnoontvfw, HETAOIN he'd be tempted to sit on the stove only one of his buddies had beat him to it. He's with an MP outfit that has charge of all of the "gook" villages on the island, seeing the civilians get along peacefully in the area. Don has himself what he calls a "racket"—same having taken him 16 months of hanging to get—in which he patrols their sector in a radio jeep and stands radio watches. He gets two days a week off, the others only one. He gets to see how the Okis live and doesn't envy them. Went to one of their big dances recently and says it defies description. Music is furnished by a banjo-like guitar, badly in need of tuning, and the dancing resembles a gooney bird trying to do a ballet.

About 2,000 civilians stood about, but Uncle Sam's Marines had tables and chairs with canvas awnings above. His buddy and he sat down and out came two native girls bringing trays filled with all sorts of strange food. Don only indulged in the bread, a round ball of cooked meal tasting like an undercooked doughnut. The saki they serve is worse than the kickapoo juice the Marines manufacture during periods of drought. It's made from rice, soy beans and water, so he is old, but Don swears there's atomic power in its concoction. Says if the natives have nothing else, they all have cast iron stomachs to drink that stuff after a few dances the Okis put on what was described as a comedy. Don said their lingo was not understandable but it was so corny it was almost funny. After some dances and songs they started bowing around to each other and secure. Don says when the natives meet one, they bow, and it's polite for the Marines to bow back to them, so now the boys go around bowing to each other out of force of habit—and is comical! After reading in the Sun how son Jimmie spent his Christmas and about the visits from the Salvation Army, the Red Cross and American Legion, Don opines that the Salvation Army has them all beat for every day good will and real service.

On Kauai, while he was standing radar guard, there was an old fellow in SA the boys called Major. Every night, rain or not, he drove to every post on the island—army, navy, marine—white or negro, bringing hot food and doughnuts. Sometimes the odds were 1200 to 1 that he'd get to the posts far back in the mountains but he'd always come. One night trigger happy guards shot at him, so after that he took to blowing his auto horn and never ever missed a night. No one paid him but when Christmas came along he setup his stateside tripod and pot and rang the customary bell. And every man on the rock would chip in, filling the pot far fuller with dollar bills than any stateside pot Don ever saw here. And this little story just illustrates the heroism of another silent, unsung hero who did his bit gladly for Uncle Sam's GIs, his pleasure in service being the only reward.

The Henry Solls had another interesting letter from their daughter Alice, whose home is at Akureyri, Iceland. She and her husband had just returned from another village where herring are made into meal. It's a complicated process and the whole town smells like herrings, but folks seem to get used to it. Among her Christmas presents were a nice pair of skis from her husband, hand knitted sweaters and a wonderful art book, to be prized by any collector. It was printed in England and contains over 500 illustrations, in color and black and white of the most famous works of art since the time of the cave men.

The Floyd Carnells last week received another letter from their son T-5 Dick, who is still in Austria. He and five buddies received a six day pass and promptly hid themselves to a mountain resort where they spent most of their time according to his letter, sleeping and skiing. He enclosed a group of snapshots taken during their skiing and presumably are taken in the Alps. He looks like he has taken on weight and was certainly enjoying his holiday. He is stationed at Salzburg.

Jimmie Frazier and his wife Pat have succeeded in securing, through friends, a three room cabin about one and a half miles from Auburn where Jimmie and his friend Bill Waters of Truckee plan to attend school and take a part time job. Jimmie's plans call for a course in industrial arts, in which he will specialize in sign painting, and time permitting, he will also take up drumming, since he is one lad with perfect rhythm since childhood, and this has been a long cherished dream. Their little daughter Linda is still with Grandma and Grandpa Frazier at Lake Forest, but she will join them as soon as they are settled in their new quarters.

Bill is temporarily boarding and rooming with them.

Had a nice letter from Stella Watson, now residing at her home in Clarksburg. She says Rob is appraising land this winter. She sent along the wonderful box of China lilies whose sweet scent fills our house and those of a number of friends in the Tahoe area. They are a real treat to us with snowbound gardens. Also enclosed were almonds and figs and valentines and candy for little Bill. I accept the invite to come down and visit soon.

Ring off another week on Monday morning as a brisk wind chases the clouds hither and yon, bringing intermittent sunshine and shadows. No snow has fallen all week, with weather lovely, but today the barometer has dropped four points and clouds are beginning to hover menacingly toward the south. Could be our grand spring weather is due for a bit of anticipated snow once more. Nor will we complain after more than two weeks of welcome sunshine.

Hope this finds you all right in the pink and may good luck and happy days attend you wherever you may be. May God be with you today and always, As ever, SWANEE.

Mrs. Ethel Atherton, who recently purchased a lovely new home in Reno, paid a surprise visit to her family, the W. A. Simmonds, early last week.

The Joseph Duffee family has gone below for a vacation.

Last Private Redwood Stand Acquired by State

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 31 (U.P.)—Purchase of a 4,500 acre mountain home tract in Tulare county, containing the last privately owned redwood stand in the state, was announced by James S. Dean, director of finance.

The state paid the Michigan Trust Co. $550,000 for the tract, which is located 25 miles northeast of Porterville, Tulare county, and surrounds the Balch county park. It will be opened as a hunting, fishing and recreational area, Dean said. Privatized cutting of "harvest" timber under state control will make it self supporting.

The tract, purchased under a 1945 legislative act appropriating $800,000 will be administered by the department of forestry.

MY PLACE in the SUN

by DOUG BARRETT

Let's get together! If all the effort organizations and individuals here which is scattered broadcast for various worthy local projects was concentrated on one thing at a time we would probably be a lot further ahead. The Donner centenary, paving the curb on Commercial Row, improvement of the Brockway and Hobart Mills roads, increases in fish plantings on the Truckee river, the country club, a gymnasium, a comprehensive winter sports program, a public library, an airport, and many others are all surely and sorely needed here. If the effort expended on each was centralized and the various projects concentrated under a single program, administered as a civic unit, I think we would be a lot further along toward realization of any or all of them. I am reminded of a cartoon which we have all seen. Two donkeys, on a single rope, are shown pulling toward opposite straw piles and getting nowhere. Eventually they get together and both go to work on one pile, then moving to the other, accomplish both objectives. In our case, it might pay to make asses of ourselves.

Street Sees: Harrie Tackett busy in his Shell grease rack...the classy new neon in front of Goodfellow's... Skimeisters Bud Zorich and Frank L. Titus report they are not snowed under...Charlie Swanson in Truckee on Tahoe Ski Club biz...Milton Shontz still scrubbing away at the Rasco floor...Dick and Lucille Little in their nice bright new office on Commercial Row...Stan Zworg with a phone to install...Truckee's main street clean again following Monday's snow fall...Lucille Bick making a call...Mena Moretta looking quite hardy in a light sweater on a cold morn...this is the last issue of the 76th year of the Truckee Republican...buses don't seem so crowded these days as in the past...Tony Pace cleaning out his demonstration model of the new Easy washer...School Supt. Walter Carlson over from the county sea...which reminds me, the election is creeping up on us.

Don't forget the PTA Founder's Day program tomorrow night. There is one organization that deserves a lot more support that it has been getting here lately.

TAHOE BRIEFS

Gene Walker Married To Alabaman in Reno Rites

TAHOE CITY—Coming like a bolt from the blue was the announcement made on Wednesday of last week of the marriage Tuesday of one of Lake Tahoe's long confirmed bachelors to a lovely lady from the southland. It was that of the wedding in Reno of Miss Lucille Callaway of Birmingham, Alabama, and Franklin Eugene Walker—just "Gene" to his Tahoe friends. They were married by a Reno judge at 8:30 p.m., their witnesses being Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Ray of Tahoe. A number of parties are being planned in honor of the newlyweds, who will make their home at Tahoe where the groom is employed at Tahoe Inn. Congratulations of the community are cordially extended!

HOME SITES IN HILLS IN GREAT DEMAND SAYS REALTY BODY

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 31 —(U.P.)—Desert and mountain cabin sites are in "great demand", the state division of real estate said today in a report to Gov. Earl Warren.

The division noted a marked increase in the number of subdivisions filed in resort areas for sites of one acre and up where city dwellers may erect weekend cottages.

A strong increase in subdivisions containing from five to 25 acre parcels for persons wishing to stable horses also is apparent, the division said.

December showed the largest number of subdivisions in one month for many years, 62 being filed. Only 25 were filed in December last year.

To date, the greater part of these subdivisions are being sold at "fairly reasonable" prices, the division said. It pointed out the danger, however, that the field might be entered by the "high pressure type of salesman."

954 STATE SCHOOLS ACCREDITED UNDER G. I. BILL OF RIGHTS

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 31 (Special)—Gov. Earl Warren was notified by the Department of Education today that 954 California institutions of learning have been accredited under the federal "GI Bill of Rights".

A veterans' adviser has been designated at every public secondary school in the state, Roy E. Simpson, superintendent of public instruction, told the governor.

This program, Simpson declared, has become a vital part of the state's service to the returning war veteran.

The junior colleges also are making every effort to aid the veteran in his problems of educational readjustment, Simpson said. They are helping the veteran to make up high school deficiencies and are offering pre-professional courses preparatory to college entrance.

The liberalized provisions of the GI bill also authorize training of veterans by correspondence schools, Simpson said. However, the instruction offered must be approved by the state before the Veterans Administration will contract for the tuition of veterans.
